CLINTON BROYLES

TUESDAY, JANUARY 5TH at 7:00

Clinton Broyles was born in McAllen, Texas in 1985. He has lived in Lubbock and Austin, and currently lives in the Dallas area. He discovered his love of art at a very early age, and began drawing sketches and cartoons while in elementary school where he won many local competitions.

He started painting with oils inspired by watching Bob Ross work his magic in The Joy of Painting on PBS.

Broyles has studied under nationally known artist, Dalhart Windberg at workshops in Texas and Colorado. Working with Mr Windberg motivated him to pursue a career in art. He has also studied drawing and Painting at Texas A&M where he received a Bachelor's degree in Architecture in 2007. His studies there inspired him to incorporate an authentic architectural theme in many of his paintings. A semester spent studying with his classmates in Italy has significantly influenced Clinton's work.

Everyone bring a painting to the monthly exhibition. We have so many talented artists and we appreciate your bringing a painting for us to enjoy and vote for our favorites.

Bring a friend and watch Clinton Broyles on January 5th. CAN YOU BE THERE??

It's 2010. Time to celebrate another year and focus on our upcoming demo artist. On Tuesday January 5th we are fortunate to have Clinton Broyles to do a demo for us. Featured in this issue of ACA NEWS are just a few of his beautiful paintings. To see more of his masterful work, visit his website : Clinton Broyles.com

In February, we are going digital with the help of Marian Hirsch, so plan on being here to learn how to photograph and put your paintings on a CD.

In March we are having Qiang Huang for a workshop before his demo on March 2nd February 28th and March first and second. Check with LaRue Hunter and see if we have any openings left for the workshop.

We had a great Christmas party. The weather kept a few members away, but we had a lot of good food. Some of us brought paintings to be critiqued by Maureen Brovilette, but she was ill and her husband filled in for her and was very entertaining and informative. We learned how to make our paintings sing and how to

THAT'S NEWS TO ME

Jill Morrisette Had a one person show at the Farmers Branch Library Gallery in September. It was titled "Cruising the World". She was then asked to continue the exhibit for October, exchanging the work for her paintings of South America.

Jill, with her daughter Amy, will be teaching watercolors on the 70 day Grand South America voyage on the Prisdam, leaving in January, 2010. This will be their 4th cruise circumnavigate South America and Antarctica.
