Michael Windberg

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3RD AT 7:00
Dallas Water Utilities 8915 Adlora at Goforth
Volume 51-Issue 3 November, 2009

Michael Windberg, eldest son of legendary artist of Texas, Dalhart Windberg, has made his own mark as a serious painter of Texas art themed landscapes and historical subjects. Michael confesses, "While I enjoyed historical images such as these., landscapes will always be my first love." Their ranch near Goliad has been in the Windberg family since 1848. It is where Michael finds a quiet atmosphere to paint. Michael relates, "I have painted in Colorado and Wyoming, but you just can't beat Texas landscapes for these ..soft tranquil .scenes we both love,"

Michael has gained a wealth of knowledge as an art conservator. "I have been restoring old oil paintings for more than 15 years, and each one I do teaches me something I can apply to my own work".

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Fall is here, and the leaves are so gorgeous as they shout, "paint me". I really wish I could, but I'm not up to outside yet. I'm really so much better. I hated to miss the great demo from JoBeth, and the great pecan tarts that Donna Monroe provided for us last month.

Elias Vasquez needs some help with the tables. He is having some surgery and won't be able to lift for a while. So, if a volunteer could show up at 6:15 and move tables for us we would appreciate it.

We have some really talented artists signed up to do our demos for the remainder of this year. Hope you will be able to attend and bring a friend. For November we have Windberg..coming to do a demo and workshop. You really don't want to miss this one. We have limited space left in the workshop so call LaRue Hunter and make your reservation. It's on the weekend for those of you who can't attend during the week.

Be sure to bring a painting to enter in the November Exhibition. We enjoy seeing the wonderful work you have been doing and you stand a good chance of winning valuable gift certificates from Asel Art Supply.

Next month is our Holiday Party. The Club will furnish the Bar-B-Que and everyone cook up their favorite sides, salads or desserts, and bring along a painting for our critique session.

Hope to see everyone at the meeting.
