JoBeth Gilliam has taken her art from a hobby to a career. Through various workshops she has enhanced her unique insight into color and composition. When she begins a new work her prime concern is with design, but she soon becomes involved in the subject matter so that she can hear the sounds and smell the scents. The moment the colors mixed on the white paper, endless original images have been released from mind to brush in spontaneous, colorful watercolor art. Through years of painting original watercolors, her work has been predominately a loose impressionistic style.

She teaches workshops and classes and serves as juror for area shows. Her work is part of public and private collections, and her colorful original watercolors are available at several galleries in the United States and Europe.

PRESIDENT'S NOTES

Thanks to all of our members for making the September meeting a big success. And our thanks to June Lee for a great demonstration. She was so informative and fun.

Thanks to Tod Bell and Jan Venuso for bringing the snacks for our break. And thanks to Mary Truelove for donating a mirror for our watercolorist, and Jim and LaRue for getting it together for us.

I've talked to several members and find that they belong to a lot of different clubs. I realize that you can't spread yourself too thin, and can only be true to one main club. We really need you to dedicate your energies and participation to ACA. Come to the meetings, sign up for workshops and polish your artistic skills while enjoying the fellowship with people with similar interests.

Some say we need big name artists for our demonstrations and workshops. We Got some big names, and now we need your support by signing up for their workshops. LaRue has been working hard, calling you and asking you to sign up. The October workshop has not made, so we will have to cancel.

Volunteers energize our club and keep it full of spirit. Don't be bashful...sign up and help even if you have done it before. We want the club to be run by all the members, not just a clique. ACA is a club for all media. Our founders believed in mixing the talents of all the members to promote variety in education through workshops and demonstrations as well as Award Shows and monthly exhibitions. We will keep you posted on our events and needs so you won't be left out.

At the last Board Meeting I asked Board members to donate an art book they were no longer using so we could give it to the 3rd Place winner in the monthly exhibition. That request now extends to the membership. If you can spare a book bring it to the meeting and give it to Elias or put it on the registration table.

Thanks to all our artists for participating in our monthly exhibition. We have moved the show into our meeting room so we can enjoy the paintings longer and consider our vote more carefully.

I hope you join me in looking forward to another great year for Associated Creative Artists. Call me with your positive ideas and suggestions for improving the club in the future. My phone is 972 495-2888.
